1 statute specify 10 percent of the votes of candidates
2 appearing on the ballot as of the same party, or does it
3 specify 10 percent of the votes of the candidates of the 4 same party?

5 A I don't remember the specific language of the statute.

6 Q But I take it you have advised the various local election
7 officials to ignore the 10 percent requirement?

8 A Yes.

9 Q Have you also advised them to ignore any nominations issued
10 by the respective major parties?

11 A They've never been a recipient of those, so it's -- it's in 12 terms of -- I guess I'd have to ask for clarification on 13 the question.

14 Q Okay. Has there been any discussion about basing the 15 10 percent, for example, on the votes obtained by the 16 highest vote-getter who was nominated by the same party as
17 the PCO candidate?

18 A I don't think we've had any discussions on that. I think
19 that's been suggested by the parties, but not by our 20 office.

21 Q Based on the training, to the best you understand it, will
22 a candidate for party office who receives one vote, namely
23 their own, be elected if there's no other candidate on the 24 ballot?

25 A A candidate for -- I'm sorry -- for county office?

McDONALD (Catherine Blinn, 8/16/10)

1 Q No. Precinct committee office.

2 A I'm sorry. PCO, yes. A candidate that -- the basis is the
3 candidate who receives the most votes wins or, excuse me,
4 is declared elected. This year we also put in place a
5 requirement that the candidate has to have filed a
6 declaration of candidacy either during the regular filing
7 period or at some point after that as a write-in candidate.
8 But that requirement did not exist in 2008, so there were
9 candidates in 2008 who won as write-ins with very few
10 votes.

11 Q Based on the training in connection with this year's
12 election, if a candidate for PCO appears on the ballot and 13 has no opposition, will they be declared elected if they
14 receive as little as one vote?

15 A If as little as one vote is the most votes, yes.

16 Q If there's no other candidate on the ballot, wouldn't that
17 be the most votes?

18 A Yeah. Well, if there was a write-in campaign.

19 Q Is it -- based on the training that you give, would a local
20 election official in that circumstance issue a Certificate
21 of Election to the PCO?

22 A Yes.

23 Q In the event that there's a vacancy in the Legislature
24 involving -- or a vacancy in the Legislature from the
25 jurisdiction that encompasses that precinct, will the PCO

1 legislation that passed in 2010, other legislation. I'm
2 not sure, because I know they were trying to get them into
3 some other bills.

4 Q When you say "they asked," who at the PDC asked?

5 A Vicki Rippe and Doug Ellis.

6 Q Whom did they ask to have that included in the agency
7 request legislation?

8 A Well, they had those conversations with me, yeah.

9 Q They initiated the conversations?

10 A I don't remember, but those changes were in bills that were
11 going through the Legislature back in '04 even before I-872
12 passed, I think. I think they were in the 2004 -- the big
13 bill that passed in 2004.

14 Q Do you recall when the last time the legislature amended
15 the PCO election statute that includes the 10 percent
16 threshold?

17 A I don't. It was probably '04.

18 Q And having worked at the Legislature, did you have occasion
19 to become familiar with the concept of last enacted
20 statute?

21 A Um-hmm.

22 Q And what's your understanding of the effect of the last
23 enacted statute?

24 A That that would be the binding statute, more relevant
25 statute if there was a conflict.

Page 48

1 Q And so your implementation of the 10 percent threshold
2 under the Top Two Primary is based on your understanding
3 that it was last amended in 2004?

4 A Really that it was impliedly repealed by Initiative 872,
5 because the Pick-A-Party Primary was impliedly repealed by
6 Initiative 872.

7 Q Do you know whether the PCO statute with the 10 percent
8 threshold was a creature of the Montana Primary, which you
9 refer to as the Pick-A-Party?

10 A Yeah. I think it predates the Pick-A-Party Primary, but
11 I'm not. . . I mean, I think it was part of the Blanket
12 Primary, but this goes back to when PCO's were on the 13 general election ballot and they were moved from the
14 general election ballot to the primary in the legislation
15 that passed in 2004, in March of 2004.

16 Q And is it your understanding of your duties as an election
17 administrator that if the Legislature passed a bill that
18 included the 10 percent threshold after the Top Two Primary
19 became effective, that the 10 percent threshold would be
20 binding on you?

21 A Well, obviously as we all know, there was a period for 22 about three years where the Top Two Primary was under an
23 injunction, so we reverted back to the Pick-A-Party Primary
24 and a bill did pass during that time period that amended
25 implementation of the Pick-A-Party Primary, but that was

On the next line shall be printed the name of the political party, and below that the precinct, ward, city and county in which the ballot is to be used. Then shall follow the words "To vote for a person mark a cross in the first square at the right of the name of the person for whom you desire to vote." Beginning at the top of the left hand column, at the left of the line, in black type, shall appear the position for which the names following are candidates, and to the extreme right of the same line the words "Vote for," then the words "One," "Two," or a spelled number designating how many persons under that head are to be voted for. Following this shall come the name of each candidate for that position, inclosed in a light faced rule, with a square to the right of said name, said square being separated by heavy black face rule, the parallel rules containing the names and the squares to be one-sixth of an inch apart. Each position, with the names running for that office, shall be separated from the following one by a black-face rule to separate each position clearly. The position shall be arranged as follows, provided nominees for such positions are to be selected in said county under the provisions of this act hereinafter provided: First, congressional; next, state; next, preference for United States senators; next, legislative; next, county officers; next, precinct officers; in all cases following under each heading here given, the rotation used in the make-up of the various ballots at the general election. At the bottom of each ballot shall be printed under the caption "non-partisan judge," the names of all candidates for Supreme and superior court judges. In city elections it shall be the duty of the city clerk to prepare the ballots and arrange the position of the candidates on such ballots commencing with the office of mayor and following with the other offices for which candidates are to be selected, using his reasonable discretion as to such arrangement. The duties provided for in this act to be performed by the county auditor with reference to candidates for county and district offices or either of them shall in like

He shall immediately thereafter deliver said ballot received by him to the election officers. In the event said voter shall soil or deface the ballot he desires to vote he shall at once return the ballot received by him and get a new ballot and the election officers shall destroy or render unfit for use the ballot so returned. The elector shall designate his choice on his ballot by marking a cross (X) in each of the small squares nearest the names of the candidates for whom he desires to vote and shall not vote for more candidates for an office than are to be elected thereto at the election to follow the primary election as indicated on the ballot at the right of each office for which candidates are to be selected.

Where under the provisions of this act a voter is required to designate his first and second choice the voter shall designate his first choice by marking a cross (X) in each of the small squares nearest to the names of the candidates for whom he desires to vote for first choice and shall designate his second choice by marking a cross (X) in the second square opposite to and parallel to the names of the candidates for whom he desires to vote as a second choice.

Sec. 13. The names of candidates for each office upon the ballot and under the heading designating each official position upon the ballots to be used in voting shall be arranged in the order in which their declarations of candidacy shall have been filed. There shall be no printing upon the back of the ballots, or any marks to distinguish them.

Said ballots shall be consecutively numbered, said numbering perforated, and torn off by the election officers on the voting of the ballot. Sample ballots shall be in the same form as the official ballot, but upon colored paper.

Sec. 14. Except as herein otherwise provided, all primary elections shall be conducted as required for general elections under the general election laws of the State of Washington, as far as the provisions thereof are applicable, and the election officers for such primary elections shall have the same powers as those for general elections.

Sec. 15. Inspectors and judges of election shall be appointed and designated in the manner provided by said general election law at least ten (10) days prior to the primary election day: Provided, That one of the judges may act and perform the duties of the clerk of election; And provided, further, That the members of each political party in any precinct entitled to participate in any primary election, may in any appointed meeting held at least fifteen (15) days before such primary election, select three (3) members of that party who are duly qualified electors and certify the names of the persons so selected, to the board of county commissioners or the city council, whose duty it is to appoint the election officers, and one of said persons shall be appointed and designated as a judge or inspector for that precinct. Sec. 17. The polls in the several election precincts on the primary election day shall be kept open from 11 o'clock in the morning until 8 o'clock in the evening of said day. If at the hour of closing there are any electors in the polling place desiring to vote, and who are qualified to participate therein, and who have not been able to do so since appearing at the polling place, said polls shall be kept open reasonably long enough after the hour of closing to allow those so present at that hour to vote. No one not present at the hour of closing shall be entitled to vote because the polls may not be actually closed when he arrives. No adjournment or intermission whatever shall take place until the polls shall be closed, and until all the votes cast at such poll have been counted and the result publicly announced.

Sec. 18. In all cases where there are four or more candidates of any political party for one state or congressional position, every elector voting at a primary election held under the terms of this act shall be required to designate one first choice and one second choice for each such position. No voter shall vote for the same person for first choice and second choice, and no voter shall, where there are four or more candidates for such nomination, vote for one person only, either as first or second choice; and no ballot so voted for one person only, for either first or second choice, or for the same person for both first and second choice, shall be considered a complete ballot, but any ballot under said conditions, failing to show both first and second choice of different persons, shall not be considered or counted, for that office.

The tally sheets shall be so kept that such sheets shall show the number of votes received, and also shall show the number of first and second choice votes received and the total number of votes received by each candidate. They shall then place the counted ballots in the box, but in no case shall they intermix the party votes. After all have been counted and certified to by the clerks and judges, they shall seal the returns for all parties in one envelope, to be returned to the county auditor or city clerk.

The party committee of each county shall consist of the precinct committeemen from the several precincts of such county. The present party organization both state and county of the several parties shall continue until their successors are elected under the provisions of this act. Each political party organization shall have the power to make its own rules and regulations, call conventions, elect delegates to conventions, state and national, fill vacancies on the ticket, provide for the nomination of presidential electors, and perform all other functions inherent to such organizations the same as though this act had not been passed: Provided, That in no instance shall any convention have the power to nominate any candidate to be voted for at any primary election. City committeemen may be elected at municipal elections in the manner provided in this section, as near as may be.

Sec. 23. Said State canvassing board shall meet at the office of the Secretary of State on the 3rd Tuesday at ten o'clock a. m. next after the September primary. As soon as said board has canvassed said vote it shall file a certificate with the Secretary of State which certificate shall show the vote of each candidate of each political party for each office. A copy of such certificate shall be published once in some newspaper published at the State capital, which publication shall be made by the Secretary of State immediately after the same is filed in his office. The vote for all county, city and municipal officers shall be canvassed and the returns made by the same officers and in the same manner as returns of the votes cast at general elections are by law now required to be made. - SECTION 43 REDISTRICTING. (1) In January of each year ending in one, a commission shall be established to provide for the redistricting of state legislative and congressional districts. (2) The commission shall be composed of five members to be selected as follows: The legislative leader of the two largest political parties in each house of the legislature shall appoint one voting member to the commission by January 15th of each year ending in one. By January 31st of each year ending in one, the four appointed members, by an affirmative vote of at least three, shall appoint the remaining member. The fifth member of the commission, who shall be nonvoting, shall act as its chairperson. If any appointing authority fails to make the required appointment by the date established by this subsection, within five days after that date the supreme court shall make the required appointment. (3) No elected official and no person elected to legislative district, county, or state political party office may serve on the commission. A commission member shall not have been an elected official and shall not have been an elected legislative district, county, or state political party officer within two years of his or her appointment to the commission. The provisions of this subsection do not apply to the office of precinct committee person. (4) The legislature shall enact laws providing for the implementation of this section, to include additional qualifications for commissioners and additional standards to govern the commission. The legislature shall appropriate funds to enable the commission to carry out its duties. (5) Each district shall contain a population, excluding nonresident military personnel, as nearly equal as practicable to the population of any other district. To the extent reasonable, each district shall contain contiguous territory, shall be compact and convenient, and shall be separated from adjoining districts by natural geographic barriers, artificial barriers, or political subdivision boundaries. The commission's plan shall not provide for a number of legislative districts different than that established by the legislature. The commission's plan shall not be drawn purposely to favor or discriminate against any political party or group. (6) The commission shall complete redistricting as soon as possible following the federal decennial census, but no later than January 1st of each year ending in two. At least three of the voting members shall approve such a redistricting plan. If three of the voting members of the commission fail to approve a plan within the time limitations provided in this subsection, the supreme court shall adopt a plan by April 30th of the year ending in two in conformance with the standards set forth in subsection (5) of this section. (7) The legislature may amend the redistricting plan but must do so by a two-thirds vote of the legislators elected or appointed to each house of the legislature. Any amendment must have passed both houses by the end of the thirtieth day of the first session convened after the commission has submitted its plan to the legislature. After that day, the plan, with any legislative amendments, constitutes the state districting law. (8) The legislature shall enact laws providing for the reconvening of a commission for the purpose of modifying a districting law adopted under this section. Such reconvening requires a two-thirds vote of the legislators elected or appointed to each house of the legislature. The commission shall conform to the standards prescribed under subsection (5) of this section and any other standards or procedures that the legislature may provide by law. At least three of the voting members shall approve such a modification. Any modification adopted by the commission may be amended by a two-thirds vote of the legislators elected and appointed to each house of the legislature. The state districting law shall include the modifications with amendments, if any. (9) The legislature shall prescribe by law the terms of commission members and the method of filling vacancies on the commission. (10) The supreme court has original jurisdiction to hear and decide all cases involving congressional and legislative redistricting. (11) Legislative and congressional districts may not be changed or established except pursuant to this section. A districting plan and any legislative amendments to the plan are not subject to Article III, section 12 of this Constitution. [AMENDMENT 74, 1983 Substitute Senate Joint Resolution No. 103, p 2202. Approved November 8, 1983.]
